WARRING FACTIONS IN REPUBLICAN PARTY

Apostle Brady and Entire Bunch in Idaho Are Hopelessly in Hole.

Special to The Tribune. BOISE, Ida., Aug. 19.-Never before has there been such a situation among the Republicans of this county as there is at the present time. The party is all torn up over a number of questions, and there appears not to be even the remotest possibility of harmonizing the warring factions before election day. This time it is a Republican house divided against itself, and as time passes the breach widens and the fight grows in intensity. The feeling between the two factions is more bitter than it ever has been between the Democrats and Republicans, and the prospects are that hundreds of days' illness, succumbed to the malady, Republican voters will refuse to support the Republican ticket nominated in this city a short time ago. In fact the dissenters from the action of the recent county ers from the action of the recent county convention contemplate putting another Republican ticket in the field, that is, an independent ticket composed of Republicans who are disgusted with the results of the Republican convention. The matter of leadorship has been lost sight of and each individual member of the Republican lost seems to be running a little circus all by himself and never was the party of this county in a more demoralized condition than it is now. a little circus all by himself and never was the party of this county in a more demoralized condition than it is now. The Democrats, with almost any kind of an organization here, can carry this county in November. And to make the situation worse, this county has a carry didate for every position on the Republican State ticket. Some of the places it has several candidates for, and only a small portion of the county has been heard from on this point. The latest candidate for favors at the hands of the Republican State convention is ex-Governor John T. Morrison, who would be pleased to accept the responsibilities of the office of attorney-general. But he does not bear the stamp of approval of Apostle Brady, and this fact will cau quite a figure, Brady appears to believe, when Brady and the delegates are making up a slate for the next State convention. And the fight goes on, not even Brady being able to stop the scrap of the factions, as evidenced by the results of his revent attempt to dissuade the belligerents from apostasy, when he was given to understand that he would better keep his hands off the Ada country situation and mind his own business.

PREPARING FOR THE IDAHO STATE FAIR

Special to The Tribune.

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 19.—Preparations for the Idaho State fair to be held in Boise the last week of October are rapidly being made, and the indications are that the event will be the best in the history of the fair association. The management is in new hands this season and no pains are being sparred by those who have charge of the matter to make the event a creditable one in all of its many features. More money than ever before will be offered in premiums and prizes and a new enthusiasm will be aroused among the producers of the county and those who enjoy the race part of the programme. The grounds are to be put in better shape than they have been in on previous occasions, and Idaho will have a fair to be proud of. A large attendance is looked for. Special to The Tribune.

WELCOME OUR FLEET

Nearly Half-Million People Assembled When Great Battleships Reach Harbor.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 19,-Early his morning a thin vell of smoke on the borizon signaled to the watchers on the coast the approach of the American warships and at 5:35 official notification was sent out that the fleet had been sighted It was yet twenty miles outside of Sydney harbor, but this word, which had been awaited eagerly by tens of thousands, stirred the Australians like a call to arms, and almost instantly those who had not left the city to take up points of vantage along the bay were moving in droves to line the quays, rooftops and droves to line the quays, rooftops and other places on the harbor front, to watch the coming of the guardians from the new world. The day broke bright and clear and so intense was the interest in the American ships of war that half the sopulace remained awake the entire night and thousands upon thousands of them long before the night was over were on their way to the hill tops outside of the city limits, where they congregated seemingly in unbroken lines along the coast from Bondi beach to Manly.
